

SecureMe Wins the Mobile Innovation of the Year Award 2020

SecureMe, the innovative security app is victorious at the National Technology Awards 2020.

The innovative mobile data security app was shortlisted as a finalist in not one but two categories; Security Innovation of the Year and also Mobile Innovation of the Year. The SecureMe team is thrilled to announce that we have been awarded the prestigious Mobile Innovation of the Year award at this year's National Technology Awards Ceremony.

It was a privilege to be nominated alongside several other big names in the tech industry and an honour to celebrate virtually with fellow award-winners. We secured the win thanks to our technologically advanced mobile security app and we are delighted at the response it has received from the judging panel. Our mobile app has made it on to the award winners list due to its intelligent approach to data security.

SecureMe is an award-winning app that not only educates phone users by informing them about the personal information their apps actually have access to, but it also guards your privacy simultaneously. SecureMe prevents apps like Facebook and WhatsApp to name a few, from retrieving data without your knowledge. It also boosts your battery life in the Process.

The 2020 National Technology Awards is a celebration of the most innovative and impressive technological advancements and brings together the most highly respected tech inventors to impact the industry. The event was co-ordinated by National Technology News and we are so excited to have been a part of this inspiring evening.

"Receiving this award is recognition of the hard work carried out behind the scenes, but also a celebration of the innovation present in the industry currently. We are honoured to be recognised by such a prestigious awards board." states James Dunne, Founder and Director of SecureMe.

This win is the latest in a string of successes for mobile data security app SecureMe.

The celebration that is notoriously held at the London Marriot Grosvenor Hotel in the heart of Mayfair was held virtually this year in order to comply with safety restrictions related to COVID-19.

Award winners were decided by an independent judging panel and announced in an online broadcast on the 30th November.
